FATAL AFFRAY.

Ed. Schuff Shot and Killed By
"Doc" Jones.

ANOTHER SHOOTING IN SAME LOCALITY.

The homicidal spirit was in evidence in this county last Saturday, and the result is one fatality and the wounding of a few others. The fatal affray occurred in the old Watson store house on Dry Fork, now occupied by Ratcliff and Horton, and called Ratcliff postoffice. The dead man was Ed Schuff, and the youth who laid him low is "Doc" Jones, aged about 20 years. If there was any premeditation at all in connection with the homicide it was evidently on part of the man who was killed, as will be seen later in this narrative.

Two or three days before the encounter in the store Schuff assaulted the boy Jones, whom he met on the public highway. He dragged him from his horse, tearing a new suit of clothes all to pieces. The boy's money fell to the ground in the scuffle, and this Schuff took and refused to give back. Between that time and the day he met his death Schuff had made repeated declarations of his intention to beat Jones and to kill him if he resisted. These threats were told to Jones, and this, taken with Schuff's reputation for violence probably caused Jones to arm himself. On the day mentioned Jones was in Ratcliff and Horton's store when Schuff entered and immediately advanced threateningly upon him. Jones retreated toward the back of the store, Schuff continuing his advance. Suddenly Jones leveled a pistol, holding it in both hands, and as rapidly as he could pulled the trigger he pumped four 35-caliber balls into Schuff's body. Any one of the bullets would have caused death, which was almost instant.

On the day following his tragic death Schuff was buried near the head of Bell's Trace. He came into this country from Virginia two or three years ago and had repeatedly been in trouble, boasting, so it is said, of having paid over six hundred dollars in fines. He left a wife and three children.

Jones came to Louisa last Monday and surrendered himself into custody, and after an examination was admitted to bail in the sum of $500, which he gave. He is respected, where he is best known, being regarded as an industrious and peaceable young man.

On the same day Horace Hensley and one of the Fien Kitchens were the human targets in a shot gun competition. The match came off about two miles from the scene of the above related homicide. There were no fatalities, but both parties are walking lead mines and Hensley will lose the sight of one eye. Kitchens' wife was slightly wounded during the festivities.

Needless Alarm.

A good deal of needless alarm is felt in this city concerning typhoid. The NEWS says "needless" alarm, because so far as it is able to learn there is not a case of typhoid fever in Louisa. And this fact is not due to the sanitary condition of the town, either, for, on the contrary, the condition is decidedly unsanitary. Hog pens, pools of filthy water, heaps of rotting refuse and foul closets are a continual menace to health. But it is of typhoid fever that this paper desires to say a word; not of its cure but of its prevention. Impure drinking water is "the direful spring of woes unnumbered," yet its purification is a very simple matter, so simple, in fact, that it can be done by anyone. One of the most noted chemists in the United States has sent circular letters to the druggists of the large cities advising them to lay in stocks of hydrochloric acid and bicarbonate of soda. A mixture of these chemicals, he informed the druggists, will kill the bacteria and clarify drinking water.

The druggists were requested to put these agents in suitable packages and to urge people to use the recipe.

The circular letter says:
First. Take exactly two gallons of water. If the water is not clear, beat up the white of one egg and add it to the water before boiling. This will gather up every particle of foreign matter in the water and carry it to the bottom. The water should be brought to a brisk boil and then stood aside to cool and settle.

Second. Pour off the clear water and stir into it a level teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda. Then stir in two-thirds of a teaspoonful of hydrochloric acid. This will make the water perfectly safe, sparkling, and refreshing without any flat taste.

"If druggists would put up the bicarbonate of soda and hydrochloric acid in suitable packages and sell with them proper-sized small glass measures to give the exact quantity of each for two gallons of water it would be a great help in lessening the prevalence of typhoid." This costs a little time, of course, but time is cheaper than doctors and coffins.

Blood Will Tell.

Some thirty years or more ago Dan Rice, the famous old time clown and showman, brought an aggregation of bronchos, acrobats and alligators to Louisa and pitched his tent on the lot where the residences of Mrs. L. M. Atkins and Jed Davis now stand. He gave an exhibition in the afternoon and evening, both times to "capacity" crowds. As is usual with shows of this sort then and now, Dan had a trick mule. At the proper time this diminutive and somewhat frisky hybrid was introduced into the ring and the announcement made that one dollar would be given to the boy who would be able to ride "January" three times around the ring. This munitificent offer called sundry specimens of boys, plain and colored, into the arena, each eager for the prize. Many mounted the mule, all to take a tumble. Calls were again made, and a little chap named Dick Johnson modestly asked permission to try his skill. He was assisted to the critter's back, and if time and tide had waited he would have been there yet. With arms around the mule's neck, and legs locked around its belly the boy defied all the efforts of man and beast to dislodge him. The beast reared, bucked, lunged and rolled, but Dick only stuck, and amid the shouts of the crowd the dollar became his very own.

Well, read the following from a Denver paper and agree with the NEWS when it says that "blood will tell."

In order to experience life in the "Wild West" and to be away from the streets and toil of a metropolitan existence, J. R. Johnson, professor in mathematics at the University of Nevada, girded up his loins this summer and answered the "Call of the Wild." Mounted on a mustang of the true Nevada type and with lariat and all other fixtures dear to the cowboy, Mr. Johnson went to a place called Hardscrabble, one of the wildest and most barren wastes in Nevada, where he began the career of a vaquero.

His experience proved unique and he feels that he received untold benefits therefrom. In speaking of the matter to a representative of The Student Record, Mr. Johnson said: "To the tenderfoot, especially one who hails from Kentucky, the first few days in the saddle are anything but pleasant, and there were times when I examined the saddle's seat in an effort to discover some of its bumps which seemed to be increasing with every mile. In time, however, I became accustomed to life as a cowboy, and it was then that the fun, which ended all too quickly began. Many thrilling adventures, filled with miraculous escapes, took place, but that's what made life interesting."

Tour of Inspection.

Major Warren and B. F. Thomas, of the Cincinnati office, U. S. Engineers, recently made a tour of inspection of the Big Sandy district. After visiting the improvement of the mouth of the river they inspected No. 2 at Kavanaugh, No. 3, at Louisa, and No. 1, on Tug and No. 1 on Levisa. Lieut. P. S. Bond, Engineer in charge of the Big Sandy Improvement, was one of the inspecting party.

Napoleon Chapman, of Harold, with his wife and little daughter, were visiting relatives in Louisa Saturday. He will shortly go to Ironton where he will work for the Ketter Grocery Company.

COUNTY FAIR.

List of Premiums and Partial List of Contributors.

LAWRENCE AND WAYNE COUNTIES ELIGIBLE.

The County Fair for Lawrence county, Ky., and Wayne county, W. Va., will be held on Friday and Saturday Oct. 12th and 13th. Preparations are almost complete on a scale that insures success.

The Business Men's Club of Louisa, joined in the work and aided materially in securing the attractive lot of premiums.

All entries except live stock must be made in the forenoon of the 12th. The fees will be ten per cent. of the premiums, but no fee shall exceed 25 cents. Only the people of Lawrence and Wayne counties will be allowed to contest for premiums.

Live stock entries may be made on Friday, but must be made by 9 a. m., on Saturday, as this will be Live Stock Day. Poultry does not come under live stock rules and must be entered on Friday morning.

If there are other articles or products worthy of display that are not shown in this list, it is hoped the owners will bring them anyway, and premiums will be given on whatever the judges deem worthy.

A display of several of the premiums appears in the window of the Louisa Drug Co.

The Primary Department.

"As the twig is bent so is the tree inclined." This sounds like Solomon or Ben Franklin. Both might have said it and told the truth. Whoever uttered these sententious words was not speaking of actual trees, but of children. As they are bent—not broken—in infancy so will they, in ninety-nine per cent of the cases, incline in maturer years. It is important, then, that the young minds be turned into proper ways, and as the young mind is shaped by its first trainer that teacher should be thoroughly fit and prepared. A young lady who fills this bill exactly is Miss Mabel Butler, and she has the very arduous and responsible position of head of the primary department of the Louisa Public School. One who in former days had much to do with schools and scholars paid a visit to Miss Butler's room the other day, and he feels like saying a word or two in sincere commendation of the young lady's manner and method. It is a hard thing, this catching and holding the attention of a frisky child in the school room. If you doubt, try it. Yet to make the suitable impression on the almost blank mind of the beginner one not only has to elicit the attention of the little learner, but one also has to keep up the attention and create an interest. And when you have done this you have only just begun. Disposition, nature, environment; all have to be noticed and appreciated. If in any one of these things a misstep is made the teacher's progress is not only stopped, but a movement backward has been made, to be regained only after patient and persistent effort.

The hearing of two recitations, and keenly observing the style of the instructor, thoroughly convinced the visitor that this teacher had not missed her vocation, and that no mistake had been made when she was assigned to the control of the primary department.

Remarkable Season.

It is now the 5th of October and the foliage on forest, shade and fruit trees is as green and lively as it usually is in June. There has never, to our memory, been such a carpet of grass on the ground as there is at this time. It is feared that when frost comes and all the rank growth begins to decay malaria may become epidemic.

We are glad to note that Mrs. Julia Dillon, who fell some days ago and dislocated her hip, is improving.—Caldwellsburg item.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Interesting Session Held Here
Wednesday and Thursday.

In pursuance of the act of the Legislature providing for the formation of Farmers' Institutes throughout the State, and also in accordance with the provision made for lectures to the Institutes, Mr. M. F. Johnson, of Louisville was assigned to this part of the State. With him are Mr. Lyon, of Ohio, and Mr. Martindale, of Indiana. All these gentlemen were here on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, these being the days advertised for the formation of the Institute for this county. Fiscal court was in session this week and only a part of each day could be given to the Institute meetings, but all the Court could spare from its sessions was given, and it was certainly well occupied and improved. Another interruption was on Wednesday afternoon when considerable time was taken up by a speech by E. T. Franks, of Owensboro. Considerable interest was shown by many of the leading agriculturists of the county, they paying close attention to the remarks of the gentlemen, who had the institute in charge. The interchange of ideas with these professional farmers, if we may use this expression, and the personal experience as related by them can not fail to have its effect and bear fruit.

On Wednesday night Mr. Martindale made a most excellent talk at the Court House on Boys. Mr. Martindale declines to be called a speaker or a lecturer, but he is altogether too modest, for his remarks on the boy and his relation to farm life were very felicitous and worthy of hearing. On to-night Thursday, he will speak again at the Court House, and we strongly advise all, particularly parents to attend. His subject will be The Home, and the NEWS bespeaks for him a full house.

The Court kindly made way Thursday morning for the Institute. These gentlemen will go from this place to many other points in Eastern Kentucky. Their mission is the same at all places, and the NEWS desires to emphasize as strongly as possible the importance of turning out in force, ladies and all, to give them hearing and co-operation. They are posted, thoroughly, in their business, and know well how to post others.

The Fair.

To all who are interested in the Fair:
Let me earnestly beg of you to put forth your best efforts to make this the best fair yet. I am deeply grieved that circumstances with me are such that it has been and will be impossible for me to be any service to you this year. It is now 32 days since my family went into the toils of typhoid fever.

We have now four cases two of which seem to be in the most severe form. When you fully understand this I hope you will not wonder why I am not working for the success of the Fair.

It is my earnest desire that it be the best yet. And now, dear friends, let me repeat my request for you to bend emergencies, to make it a success, since the Business Men's Club in Louisa is doing so much for it. respectfully,

G. B. Carter, Secretary.

Sustained By Court.

During several days past James Shannon as nearest Justice, had under consideration the will of Samuel Muncey deceased. It had been offered for probate and was resisted by some of the male descendants of Mr. Muncey. At the conclusion of the testimony and the remarks of counsel the court held that the will should be probated. It disposes of about 800 acres of good land, $2,500 in cash and considerable personal property, and most of it goes to Victor Muncey and his sisters. These are Mrs. A. H. Moore, of Ashland, Mrs. John Meek, Mrs. Joe McClure and Miss Willie Muncey. The case will be appealed.

Lee Banfield died at his residence on upper Jefferson street last Friday evening after a short illness. Interment was had the following day on Pine Hill. His disease was typhoid fever. He left a wife and children, and had lived in Louisa about a year.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM MANY STATES

Important News Gathered from Abroad for the Benefit of Our Readers.

Trimble, Simpson and Nicholas counties all went "dry" Saturday, voting out saloons by large majorities. In each county the election passed off quietly.

Hartford Herald says: With many Kentucky towns and county going "dry" at liquor elections and the biggest corn crop in the history of the State ready to be gathered into the garner, means—well, it seems to mean better and more peaceful time for the State, and more "co'n pone" — bless the product!—for the hungry people of the Commonwealth and elsewhere.

Louisville and Nashville passenger train, northbound, ran into an open bridge across Cumberland river at Clarksville, Tenn., at 7:40 o'clock. The engine, baggage and mail coaches went down, carrying with them six men, four of whom were rescued.

Bowling Green Times Journal says: We wonder what the Republican press of Kentucky will do when the Democratic primary is over. They are being kept so busy at present running the primary that they will no doubt feel better when it is over.

Springfield Sun says: Both Louisville and Lexington held great fairs last week. And that proves that Kentucky is big enough to do big things in different sections all at the same time. Mammoth pumpkins are plentiful in Kentucky! bet-cher life! And we may have a dozen State Fairs next year.

Bowling Green, Ky., Sept. 29.—J. C. Sims will go to Georgetown Monday to confer with the Commonwealth's Attorney in regard to fixing the time for the trial of the Caleb Powers case. The case is docketed for the October term, which convenes in Georgetown Monday, but lasts only three weeks. This will not give time enough to try Powers' case and it is thought a special term will be called to try the case.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Sept. 29.—The large tobacco barn on J. M. Bigstaff's farm, near Springfield, was burned to the ground, with about five thousand pounds of tobacco. The loss will be $1,500, with no insurance. The fire was caused by efforts to cure tobacco by burning charcoal.

Auburn, Ky., Sept. 26.—Uncle Miles Monday died last night of diseases incident to old age. He was 112 years old and was one of the most highly-respected and loved negroes in this entire community. Just before he breathed his last he uttered these words: "I am ready to meet my Savior." There is no question as to his age.

Owingsville, Ky., Sept. 28.—Mrs. Sallie Darnell, the oldest woman in this section of the State, has just celebrated her ninety-third birthday at her home at Odessa, this county. Over 100 of her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren were present. Mrs. Darnell's children were all present at her table. Their respective ages are as follows: J. B. Darnell, seventy-two; J. W. Darnell, seventy-one; F. L. Darnell, sixty-nine; Mrs. Ruth Jones, sixty-seven; Mrs. Martha Moreland, fifty-eight; Mrs. Millie Gudegill, fifty-six; Mrs. Darnell is hale and hearty, reads without spectacles and is in excellent health.

Winchester, Ky., Sept. 28.—Col. Jos. T. Tucker, aged eighty-three years, died at his home in this city this morning after a short illness. He was Lieutenant Colonel of the Eleventh Kentucky Confederate cavalry and when Col. Walter Chenault was killed in a charge at Green river bridge, Col. Tucker succeeded to the command of the regiment.

Senator James B. McCreary was second in rank to him in the same regiment. He had been a leading lawyer here for a half century and had represented the county in the Legislature. He always a Democrat, there being at one time only six Democrats in Winchester, and he was one.

He leaves a widow, who was a daughter of Andrew Hood, a prominent physician and politician of the county, one son, Capt. Hood Tucker, and one daughter, Miss Nannie Tucker. He will be buried to-morrow under the auspices of the Confederate veterans.

Sharpsburg, Ky., Sept. 28.—Robert Lee, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Thompson, of Craig, this county, is dead of diphtheria, and there are several other cases. The school here has been closed on account of diphtheria.

Late reports from various of the stricken cities of the Gulf coast show that the tropical hurricane, which began last Wednesday and which still continues in several places, has done enormous damage to property and caused, probably, immense loss of life. Rough estimates place the property loss at Pensacola, Fla., $5,000,000; at Mobile, $3,000,000; at New Orleans, $1,000,000, and at the other Gulf coast towns probably in excess of $3,000,000. Accurate reports, however, as to the property damage and loss of life are not possible to obtain.

Boone County Recorder says: The negroes in Central Kentucky have quite a factor in the recent local option elections held there. They have enlisted on the side of temperance, and in several instances have settled the election.

Henry Watterson puts it well. He always puts it well. Introducing Mr. Bryan at Louisville a few days ago, the able Kentucky editor, who had always fought the leadership of the Nebraskan said: "There is but one paramount issue for the next presidential battle, and that is the rescue of the Government from the hands that have misused it and its restitution to the custody of the plain, but sovereign people."

That was the true point of Mrs. Bryan's speech on the South Carolina University campus yesterday. He emphasized the fact that the Democratic party has before it the task of restoring the Government to the hands of the people from whom it has been taken by the enemies of the Republic, the debauchers of the suffrage and of the administration. The corruptionists have been the beneficiaries of the Government, especially through the tariff. The subject of the tariff, therefore, formed the burden of Mr. Bryan's speech, and he indicated both in his set address and in conversations that he expected to make this the principal point of attack in the coming presidential campaign.

The subject of Government ownership of railroads was touched upon, and here Mr. Bryan showed forcibly the type of man he is. He distinctly declared that he was unalterably opposed to any further centralization of power in Washington, and that should the Government take control of the railroads, it should be by States, and each State should settle the question for itself. The national Government should take control of only a few trunk lines. When the speaker declared that he could only speak for himself, that he was governed only by his own judgment and his own conscience, and that no considerations of personal or party advantage, not even the prospect of the presidency itself, could induce him to express than what he sincerely believed, the crowd gave him a tremendous cheer.

An important element in the "paramount issue" is to put in the White House, above all things, a man—not a charlatan, not a hypocrite, not a tool, but a man. Such the South knows Mr. Bryan to be and it is following his leadership with confidence and with enthusiasm.

Central City, Ky., Sept. 27.—After having fatally shot his four-year-old playmate, Russell Malloy, with a rifle the two had found in a box in a stable, William Hangman, seven years old, tried to commit suicide this afternoon by cutting his throat with a small knife.

The two boys were always together, and this afternoon they discovered a rifle in the stable at the Malloy home. After they had examined it they were in the act of replacing it in the box when the trigger struck a corner of the box and the gun was discharged. The bullet entered young Malloy's shoulder, breaking the collarbone.

He arose and tried to walk to his home, but after he had gone 100 feet he fell. Hangman picked him up and carried him the rest of the distance and then tried to stop the flow of blood with his hands, but was unsuccessful. He then started down the street in search of a physician, his hands streaming with the blood of his victim.

When finally he was told that his companion could not live he drew a knife from his pocket and tried to slash his throat, but he was prevented from doing himself serious injury. He said as he was being restrained: "If Russell is going to die I want to die, too."

Cuba now has a provisional government and Gov. Taft's plan for the restoration of peace and order in the island will hold public attention during the week. With the advent of the American troops, who have been directed to proceed to Cuba at the earliest possible moment, the first detachment landing in Havana next Saturday, it is expected that the work will be hurried along with the greatest expedition. In the meantime the official proclamation published by Gov. Taft will have reached nearly every point on the island and the whole Cuban people will have been informed that American intervention has come.

Dispatches from the gulf coast show that the storm caused more deaths than has been thought. In and near Mobile the number is 125, while eighteen are known to be dead in the vicinity of New Orleans. Property losses are also mounting higher, the damage to pine timber alone being placed at $10,000,000.

In a Government report just issued the total number of pensioners in the United States is 985,971, or a decrease in the fiscal year ended June 30 of 43,800.

Gas in large quantities has been found in Lee county and it is believed that a good grade of oil will be found deeper. In other Kentucky fields there has been little doing during the last week.

Richmond, Ky., Sept. 28.—Nathan Tudor, a farmer, residing near Silver Creek, last night shot and killed his brother, Marion. The killing took place at the home of Mr. Tudor, where the dead man made his home. The trouble was said to have been over an insult offered Mrs. Tudor by Marion Tudor.

Tudor was arrested after the killing, and to Sheriff Broadus, who made the arrest, made the following statement: "My brother, who had been to Richmond to the circus, returned home, greatly under the influence of liquor. He no sooner entered the house than he insulted my wife by making indecent proposals to her. She ran out of the room and 'old me, when I immediately procured my gun and shot him dead." Tudor was not placed in jail being allowed a guard. The dead man was thirty-six years old and unmarried.

Ballot boxes have been purchased for all the counties where they have to be furnished. Some of the boxes were bought in Lexington and a lot in Louisville. The boxes for the mountains or eastern section of the State are of the latest design in ballot-box making. They are of the regulation metal, but are self-adjustable. That is, they can be pressed down flat like an adjustable paper box for the shipment, but when ready for use they conform to all the requirements of an official ballot box. These ballot boxes will be shipped to the eastern counties with the ballots.

All druggists sell it. Price 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

LAST OF HER TRIBE

"INDIAN LIZE," DECREPIT AND BLIND, WAITING FOR DEATH.

Last Survivor of the Calapooias Now Living at Brownsville, Ore.—Remembers Arrival of First White Settlers.

Albany, Ore.—"Indian Lize," the last of the Calapooias, a once powerful Indian tribe inhabiting these parts, resides in Brownsville, in this county. She does not know her own age, but says that she has a distinct remembrance of the coming of the white men and their first settlement in this county and valley. Even at that early date she was a grown woman and the squaw of one of the most powerful and important of the Calapooia tribesmen, having children (papooses) of her own.

Considering these facts, no doubt she is well along toward the century mark. Old, decrepit and blind, it is necessary to wait on her as if she were a child, it being necessary to prepare her meals and take them to her, place her in bed at nights and see that she does not get lost in endeavoring to follow some of the old trails in the neighborhood.

The county court of Linn county allows Mrs. B. M. Cushman four dollars a month as an allowance to assist her in caring for her, a task by no means easy or to be desired. The old Indian woman was born in Linn county, on the banks of the Calapooia river, near Crawfordville, where she spent her childhood days, never having left the scenes of her early life for any great length of time.

With her will pass away the last of the Calapooias, an Indian tribe that was always friendly to the whites, often assisting them in their warfare against other hostile tribes and chieftains. "Indian Lize" is the last of them and in her lonely existence there is much to excite the sympathy of the more fortunate ones. Without tepid, husband, children or tribesmen, she awaits the call to that "happy hunting ground" and that bourne to which her dear ones and her fathers have long ago preceded her. There is none of the life so dear to every child of the forest to beckon her, or children and loved ones to care for and protect her in her declining years.

The Calapooias for a long time were stationed on the Grand Ronde Indian reservation. At the close of the Rogue River Indian war Gen. Palmer was obliged to separate the 13 tribes at the agency on account of war and tribal hatred existing among themselves. Together with other tribes they were removed to the Siletz Indian reservation, from which place they annually would wander hither and thither, making pilgrimages to the valley towns, selling Indian baskets, gathering blackberries and working in the hop fields, so as to gather sufficient supplies for the winter's cold.

TURKEYS COOK CHESTNUTS.

Drop Them in Charcoal Pit, Pull Them Out and Eat Hearty Meal.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Filled with an overwhelming spirit of gratitude for the protecting laws thrown around them by the state of Pennsylvania, game birds and animals which are now safe from pot hunters are showing their appreciation in a most amazing manner.

This is evidenced by the truthful reports coming from various points, and which are here set forth.

Near Blain, Perry county, Hiram Gibbs observed a flock of wild turkeys, carrying chestnuts, just now ripening, to a charcoal pit and dropping them upon the hot coals.

Soon the nuts burst open, and the intelligent birds raked them out with their claws, carried the meaty chestnuts to a cleared spot, where, after cooling, the nuts were eaten with gusto.

Mr. Gibb is convinced that the wild turkeys are doing their best to acquire a more delicious flavor, so that they will be highly appreciated by the sportsmen who are lucky enough to kill and eat them.

Hunters who have lived in Perry county more than 50 years say that at no time in their careers have they seen such a self-sacrificing spirit shown by wild turkeys.

CLAIMS HEART OF NEW YORK.

Iowa Woman Hopes to Become Possessor of Many Millions.

Des Moines, Ia.—Asserting that she is an heir of Robert Edwards, who in 1789 as landlord leased for a term of 99 years 62 acres in the very heart of the city of New York, Mrs. L. B. Brown, of this city, has begun an attempt to procure for herself her share of the property, now estimated to be worth $312,000,000. The land is near Broadway and Wall street, and contains the famous Trinity church, the subtreasury and other valuable property.

It was leased first to Aaron Burr, and now that the 99-year lease has expired, the heirs hold that they are entitled to the property. Mrs. Brown estimates that her share will be worth $4,000,000.

The Edwards estate has long attracted the attention of heirs in other states, and Mrs. Brown now proposes to have her share of the wealth. Mrs. Brown, who has proof that she is a direct descendant of Edwards, has retained local attorneys, and will make every effort to recover her property.

To All Democratic Voters.

If there ever was a time in the history of the Democratic party for the manifestation of loyalty and patriotism on the part of its members, it is right now.

If we are to win a victory and elect a President two years hence, we must first elect a House of Representatives this fall. A Democratic House can and will investigate every department of the Government with all of them honeycombed by "graft," the edges of which only have been touched by recent exposure and prosecutions, there will be a revelation of rottenness that will astound the country, and create a demand for a Democratic administration to clean the Government workshop.

To win the House we need money to defray legitimate expenses and to defray legitimate expenses and get out our vote. We have no protected monopolies from which to draw to fill our coffers, as they do those of the Republican party. We must, therefore, appeal to loyal Democrats for contributions.

Will you send us $1.00 at once, and in return for this we will send you copies of our campaign literature issued by the Committee. You will have the thanks of the entire Democratic party for your favorable response to our request.

Job Printing

Some of you are paying more for your job printing than the Big Sandy News office charges, and getting a poorer class of work and a cheaper grade of stock. It is worth your while to investigate.

RUBBER STAMPS

Rubber stamps are a great convenience for certain purposes. They are not suitable for printing your letter heads and envelopes. Neatly printed stationery looks business-like and is cheaper, all things considered, than buying blank stock and stamping it yourself.

However, we furnish rubber stamps at 10 cents for a single line 3 inches or less in length. 25 cents for 3 lines 3 inches or less.

OBITUARY.

Otta Cooksey, daughter of William and Nancy Cooksey, died August 29, 1906, aged 15 years, 10 months and 2 days. Her death was a shock to all her friends. She was laid to rest in the Webb grave-yard on East Fork to await the resurrection morn, when all shall stand before the judgment seat of Christ.

She was a good girl, always ready to do what is right and shun what is wrong.

Why Otta was taken we can not tell, but our Heavenly Father had a call for her in that sweet land where no death shall enter. She was the idol of all who knew her. She told a friend that she would not stay on earth very long, for God had a better purpose for her than her parents had.

Now He has made his calling. I will say to the friends to prepare to meet Otta in that home that is unknown to us, but not to her.

Precious darling how we miss you in the morning, noon and night. How you filled the family circle.

With your smiles so sweet and bright.

Farewell Otta, Oh the parting. Brings to us sad tears and pain; But there is a golden promise.

That in Heaven we'll meet again. A true friend.

Throat Coughs

A tickling in the throat; hoarseness at times; a deep breath irritates it;—these are features of a throat cough. They're very deceptive and a cough mixture won't cure them. You want something that will heal the inflamed membranes, enrich the blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion

is just such a remedy. It has wonderful healing and nourishing power. Removes the cause of the cough and the whole system is given new strength and vigor.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle.

Woman should grow more devoted and men fonder after marriage if they have the slightest idea of being happy as wives and husbands. It is losing sight of this fundamental truth which leads to hundreds of divorces. Yet many a man will scold his wife who would never think of breathing a harsh word to his sweetheart, and many a wife will look glum and morose on her husband's return who had only smiles and words of cheer for him when he was her suitor.

Do not repress the buoyant spirit of your children; half an hour of merriment around the lamp and firelight of a home blots out many a care and annoyance during the day, and the best safe-guard they can take with them into the world is the unseen influence of a bright little domestic circle. Put home first and foremost; for there will come a time when the home circle will be broken, when you long "for the touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is still," and when your greatest pleasure will be in remembering that you did all in your power to put a song under every burden, to make each other happy.

COMPANIONSHIP HEALTHFUL.

There is a wise old German saying that "Only a god or a brute can dwell in solitude." Men and woman need congenial companionship, both for the sake of health and happiness. Just as your lungs, after using up all the oxygen in a close room, need to be filled with fresh, out-of-door air, so your mind needs contact with other minds to get new ideas. There is such a thing as mental as well as physical hunger. Herders on the cattle ranches of the West frequently become mad from the isolation they are forced to endure. Women on lonely farms and in small villages grow morbid and mildly insane, and people do not guess that the cause is want of companionship.

It is for this reason that a woman's work at home is always more trying than that of her husband, who goes to his office, sees new faces, and has the friction that is produced by meeting other people. Even the farmer has more intercourse with his neighbor at market, or at the village grocery, than his wife, who may not see any one outside of her own family for weeks. It is a great mistake of young people to isolate themselves. Even if their tastes lead them to a quiet life, they should make it a point to cultivate a few agreeable friends.

HUSBANDS AND WIVES.

A good husband makes a good wife. Some men can neither do without wives nor without them; they are wretched alone in what is called single blessedness, and they make their homes miserable when they get married; they are like Thompkins' dog, which could not bear to be loose and howled when it was tied up. Happy bachelors are happy husbands, and a happy husband is the happiest of men. A well matched couple carry a joyful life between them, as the two spies carried the cluster of Eschol. They multiply their joys by sharing them, and lessen their troubles by dividing them. This is fine arithmetic. The wagon of care rolls lightly along as they pull together, and when it drags a little heavily, or there's a hitch anywhere, they love each other all the more, and so lighten the labor.

FOR THE BOYS.

The young man who is always found around the street corners and who spends his evenings in drinking and playing cards, will never amount to much. It is contrary to the natural order of things. The boys who spend their precious youth in this manner, are the ones who will take the place of our day laborers; they will live in poor houses, wear poor clothes and when they come to die they will be followed to their graves by few friends. Oh, that the young men of our land might awaken to a knowledge of their situation. There is an opportunity for every young man to become an honored citizen, and so many, oh, so many precious boys, are allowing themselves to be carried along, apparently caring but little about their future. We do admire a manly boy, one who tries to become a man, and wealwies feel like helping him along. The boy who steps out from among evil associates, gives tobacco the go-by, has the true grit and deserves to be helped. It takes considerable to turn one's back upon those whom he has been associating with and we admire the pluck of one who does so. Our country needs grand and good men, and to become a grand and good man, one must be a grand good boy. It is a wrong idea that every boy must "sow his wild oats." When you sow a crop of wild oats, you must take time to harvest a crop; and the crop is never anything but chaff. "Wild oats" need never be sown. The time spent in sowing wild oats is worse than lost, for the time could be spent in sowing a crop that would yield a golden harvest. Be careful about the kind of seed you sow, for "whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

MODERN MARRIAGE.

Half the marriages in the world are nothing but bubbles and barter. A man wants a wife. He casts about for an exchange. In a year he is tired of his bargain. In five years love is dead, and cold-browed tolerance inherits love's garments. In twenty years tolerance it is at its grave and hate reigns supreme. The wife is naggy and prickly and peckish. The husband is dogmatic and reticent and mean. But there they hang together on the bough, like two gnarled and frosted apples, until the winds of death dislodge them and away they go. The only way to be rid of bubble marriages—marriages that turn out emptiness with one drop of water as the residuum, and that drop a tear—is to educate our boys and girls to something higher than playing with pipes and soapy water. Give them something more earnest to do and see that they do it. Compel men and women to choose their life companions with at least a tithe of the solemnity they bring to the selection of a carriage horse or a ribbon. Legislate laws against early marriages. "I can't tolerate children," said a little simpleton to us the other day, "but I adore dogs!" and yet that girl had an engagement ring on her finger. There should be a special seclusion for such girls until they develop some instinct of womanliness and should no more be allowed to marry than a Choctaw chief should take charge of a kindergarten. We cannot hope to turn a bubble into substance after it is once broken.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Democratic Ticket.

For Congress

HON. JAMES N. KEHOE, of Mason County.

June W. Gayle, of Owenton, who has been a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer, has announced his withdrawal from the race, leaving a clear field for his opponent, Ruby Laffoon, of Madisonville. Mr. Gayle was in Louisville last week.

In the Henry County Circuit Court at New Castle, Judge R. F. Peak decided the case of J. T. Scott against the Board of Trustees of New Castle, involving the constitutionality of what is known as the County Unit Bill passed by the General Assembly at its last session. In effect, Judge Peak holds the bill unconstitutional. The trustees of New Castle will appeal the case. Should Judge Peak's decision be upheld it will knock out the County Unit Law.

By a combination which was effected, James E. Stone will be the running mate for W. O. Winfrey in the latter's race for the Democratic nomination for the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Mr. Stone will be chief clerk to Mr. Winfrey in case the latter is nominated and elected Superintendent.

Mr. Stone is from Breckenridge county and still calls that home, although much of his time has been spent in Louisville and at Frankfort. He has been clerk of one or other of the two houses of the General Assembly for the last twenty years and is known to every politician and Democratic leader in the State. He was county superintendent of Breckenridge county for two terms and has had other experience in educational work. Mr. Stone expects to begin an active campaign at once.

In his call for material aid Thomas L. Walker, Secretary of the Republican State Committee, thinks the situation in this district is "alarming." This depends largely on the point of view, but this is what he says:

Sept. 27, 1906.—Dear Sir: The supremacy of the Republican party in Congress is threatened. Our national leaders recognize that the situation is alarming and are urging the Republicans in the districts where there is a shadow of a chance to elect a Congressman to put forth unusual efforts for the Republican nominees.

The national organization looks to Kentucky Republicans to elect three more Congressmen in addition to the two now representing the State and have put it up to the State organization to arouse the Republicans of Kentucky to the situation. We, of course, must look to you to assist us in this work. The importance of this election is underestimated by our friends, and party interests, as well as good government, are being neglected in consequence. The organization is systematically marshaling the forces in the close districts. Whatever contribution you may make will go into the work in the Ninth and Tenth districts, and we therefore confidently expect liberal aid.

For Thin, Poor Blood

You can trust a medicine tested 60 years! Sixty years of experience, think of that! Experience with Ayer's Sarsaparilla; the original Sarsaparilla; the strongest Sarsaparilla; the Sarsaparilla the doctors endorse for thin blood, weak nerves, general debility.

Even this grand old medicine cannot do its work unless the liver is healthy and the bowels unobstructed. For the best possible results, take a laxative dose of Ayer's Pile Ointment, or the Sarsaparilla. The liver will quickly respond, and so will the bowels.

Made by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold everywhere.

HAIR VIGOR, AUBRE CURE, CHERRY PECTORAL.

Politics was introduced into the session of the Methodist conference at Central City when a resolution was offered indorsing Gov. Beckham. Spirited debate followed, several of the leading ministers opposing any expression by the conference in a political race, but on a vote the resolution was adopted without change.

Col. W. B. Haldeman was elected a member from the State at large of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committees at a joint meeting of the two committees, and in a talk which he made immediately afterward he pledged to all candidates a fair count and a square deal in Louisville in the primary of November 6. Mr. Haldeman said he would insist upon everything being done to insure a fair count of all the votes cast and would assure challengers and inspectors for any and all candidates who desired to be represented at the polls.

OVERDA.

Sorghum making and wheat sowing is the order of the day at this place. The hauling is about completed its work on the account of the roads being so bad.

Sheriff S. D. Smith, of this county, was at Overda, Saturday collecting taxes. It has two stores, a post-office and a blacksmith shop, and the trade is fine.

GOV. BECKHAM

Will Speak at Louisa on Friday, October 12th.

Gov. Beckham will speak at Louisa on Friday, Oct. 12th, at one o'clock, in the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

He and Senator James B. McCreary are the candidates and the race between them is to be decided by a primary election to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 6th, the same day as the general election.

This race is attracting a great deal of attention throughout the State, overshadowing all the other contests.

PERT PARAGRAPHS

Picked Up At Pike, Paint and Prestonsburg.

Mr. Ratcliff, of the Huntington wholesale firm of Hagen and Ratcliff, was in Pikeville yesterday procuring warrants for one A. M. Barcus, who left his lumbering camp and hastily went to the state of West Virginia, leaving his creditors duped. Many of them are badly hurt financially.

"There is nothing lonelier than a hearthstone with no children about it," says Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Perhaps this fact influenced the Salsersville widower with five children who has just married a widow with seven.

Paintsville, September, 28. — The marriage of Miss Lottie Walker to Thomas Preston was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lex Walker, one mile north of town, Wednesday at high noon. Rev. C. W. Craig performed the ceremony, and only the immediate friends and relatives of the families were present.

George Pinson, Jr., vs. Andy Sanders—Filed September 21, 1906.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Pike Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by John D. Carroll, Commissioner.

Estates of Deceased Persons — Pensions — Exemptions. — The pension laws of the United States provide that accrued pensions shall not be considered a part of the estate of deceased persons nor be liable for the payment of debts in any case whatever, but shall insure to the sole benefit of the widow, or children, if there be no widow.

J. S. Cline, Jr., for appellant; J. F. Butler for appellee.

Hon. James N. Kehoe was in Louisa last week mingling with the voters, all of whom were glad to see him again and know that he was to be their Representative once more. He made a record while in Congress that is more and more appreciated by his constituents all the time. He is a man who does things. He has the necessary brains, energy and tact to accomplish whatever he goes after. Remember that his name will be on your ballot next month.

Hon. E. A. Gullion, of Henry county, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Superintendent of Public Instruction in the primary of November 6th. He is one of the best known educators and newspaper men in the State, and was President of the Kentucky Press Association last year. For several years he was Superintendent of Schools of Carroll county and made a record that attracted much attention. He is a practical school man and has fine executive ability. The people of Kentucky will do well to place him in this important position.

Fox, the gaited stallion, is a very large dark bay and is the finest saddle horse country ever knew. His colts took every premium at the county fair in 1904 at the ages of 4, 12 and 24 months. This fine horse will be found at Louisa every day this fall. $8.00 to insure. See G. V. Meek.

ENCROACHING.

The Woman's Page to two has grown
Alas! we can't escape her!
She has a start and soon she'll own
The whole dodgasted paper.

A haze is on the far horizon,
An infinite tender sky,
The ripe, rich tint of the corn-fields,
And the wild geese sailing high;
And all over upland and lowland
The charm of the golden rod,—
Some of us call it Autumn,
And others call it God.

There were no services at any of the churches last Sunday, a very unusual thing. Mr. Williams had not returned from his short vacation, the new pastor of the M. E. Church had not arrived, and the Baptist church has no regular preaching on the 5th Sunday.

W. A. Folger, of Washington, D.
C., is convalescent after a long illness, following an operation for appendicitis. He is still in the hospital, but expects to leave soon in company with his wife and son for a trip through the South. This news will be welcomed by Mr. Folger's Louisa friends.

James A. Hughes and wife, of Huntington are here, guests of his brother, Postmaster Hughes and his wife. Mr. Hughes is the member of Congress from the district across the and its people. He certainly has an able coadjutor in the person of his accomplished wife.

The Rev. J. D. Walsh, formerly presiding elder of the Louisville Methodist Church, North, and well known in Louisa, had his left foot amputated at Deaconess Hospital, in Louisville last Saturday. The amputation was the result of an accident in a run away at Glasgow, Ky., several weeks ago, in which the Rev.
Walsh sustained a broken ankle.

At the recent Methodist conference at Greenup, Ky., the Rev. Walsh was selected to take the pastorate of Shinkle's chapel in Covington, Ky.

The NEWS regrets to hear of the very serious condition of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kirk's youngest child.
It has acute dysentery, and its life is almost despaired of. The child is a girl, aged about 18 months.

Miss Maggie Heston, after spending several weeks in Portsmouth, visiting her brother, has gone to Williamson to spend several weeks with her brother and family at that place.

Mrs. Bentley, an aged woman and former resident of this county, died in the Asylum at Lexington last Sunday. On the following day the body arrived here and on Tuesday it was taken to her former home not far from Yatesville for interment. She was the widow of William Bentley, and old and highly respected citizen of this county.

Miss Laura Compton, who for several weeks has had charge of the
C. and O. ticket office in Louisa, has finished her tour of duty here
and gone to her home in Buchanan.
It is said that she is slated for the office at Richardson.

Miss Compton is a very competent passenger agent, being a good tele-grapher and accountant, and blessed with courtesy and pleasantness to all who have business with her office.

A Louisian Married.

On Wednesday, Sept. 26 James McGuire, a well known and excellent young man, was married to Miss Effie Fraley, of East Point; Rev. S.
F. Reynolds officiating. The wedding occurred at the residence of the bride, who is said to be in all respect a very estimable young lady.
"Jim" McGuire has for many years been a trusted and capable C. and O. employee. At present he is the inspector, but was for many years section foreman. He is sober, industrious and intelligent, and these valuable qualities will always secure for him the recognition he deserves.
His present to his bride was $500,
in cash.

$1.00 Does the Work of $1.25.

Just received the finest stock of general merchandise ever brought to Louisa. We call special attention to our ladies wraps, skirts, underwear and millinery. Also shoes, hats and clothing for men, women and children.

remember, we have quit the credit business from this day on. We will quote prices so low that if the man who sells on time gets to see them he will fall dead. Poor man, it may be that he can collect his bad accounts in the other world. Arbuckle coffee 16 cents, Golden Rio 18 cts, Gold Dust 4 cts, box, Lenox soap 3 cts, Big Deal 4 cts, Utility 2 cts, Alpha flour $4.50 bbl, 30 and 60 cts pr bag, Smoked bacon 9 cts, pr lb, Syrup 9 cts, per qt. Fine old Sorghum 25 cts gal.

We cut the price on all 5 and 10
ct. goods to 4 and 9 cts. Get the other fellow's price and we will undersell. When you buy goods on time he charges you 25 cts more on every dollar for the time, and to make up for what he loses on the fellow that didn't pay his account.
So bring your money to me and make $1.00 do the work of $1.25.

PIERCE & DERRICK,

BARGAIN LEADERS

THE FARM.

"The farmer's trade is one of worth; He's partner with the sky and earth, And partner with the sun and rain; And partner with the sun and rain; CONCRETE ON THE FARM.

An enterprising lady farmer wants the formula for laying concrete for farm purposes. The following is given: If a road or driveway is wanted, about six inches of dirt is taken out and cinders filled in and tamped or rolled until it is four inches thick. Then the concrete should be mixed as follows: Take one-half of coarse gravel or broken stone, and one-fourth of sand, and one-fourth of cement or water-lime, mix them dry, then wet thoroughly and lay two-inches thick on top of the cinders, tamping it evenly. On top of this, flow a mixture of soft concrete made two-thirds clean, sharp sand and one-third best Portland cement, mixed together dry and then thoroughly wet and worked quick. Pour this top dressing on evenly and level with trowel and straight edge, and let the top be quite wet when surface is finished. Protect the drive way for several days while the concrete is hardening. While the mass is still soft, lay off squares like large flag stones, making shallow markings, and in inclines into stables or carriage houses, mark off cross grooves to keep horses from slipping. If the mixture is properly made and laid the floors are almost indestructible, and for dairy, stable floors, gutters and feeding troughs and for milk room floors and floors for hog houses, nothing is cheaper, cleaner or more lasting.

CIDER VINEGAR.

One of the most useful and healthful articles of diet on a farm is good cider vinegar, and no family in the country where apples grow, should be without a generous supply. Besides, good apple vinegar is always worth good money, and especially will this be the case in the future when the factory-made vinegar, manufactured from fermented corn meal and colored cannot be sold as cider vinegar, because of the Pure Food law.

Any farmer can make cider from apples, but it is very difficult to convert this cider, either sweet or hard, into vinegar, in less than six months, in which time nature does the work. But the process can be shortened by a little planning and nature. If you can get a small quantity of "Mother" from some old vinegar, add this disagreeable looking jelly mass to your barrel of cider after it has fermented for five to eight weeks, with open bung. If you can not obtain any "mother," take half old vinegar and half hard cider and mix in a crock and set in a warm dark place and the fermenting process will soon cause the fungus growth to come on the top. Then you have a starter which can be added to your barrel by pouring in and not stirring.

ANOTHER THING IN FAVOR OF ALFALFA.

The praises have been rung of alfalfa in a hundred different ways and it deserves them all. But our attention has been called in the last three years to a new point of excellence, that is that alfalfa is a great weed destroyer. When the plant occupies a meadow say, for three to five years, and is cut regularly three times a year there is but little show for weeds to ripen and seed. For three years we have been planting corn on alfalfa soil every spring, and there has been the fewest weeds in that corn that we have experienced. Possibly the increased yield in corn, which is noticed when planted on alfalfa soil is partially due to the fact that the corn gets the whole strength of the land. But we are certain that as a weed killer it is unexcelled.

COULDN'T USE A COOK BOOK.

An old man who had learned of necessity to do his own cooking, in a cabin where a woman's care was unknown, was once visited by a chance passer-by in the wilderness. The two chanced to talk of cooking and cooking utensils. During the conversation the old man remarked: "I had one of them cook books, wunst, but I couldn't do nawthin' with it. Why, everything in the book began with 'First take a clean dish.'"

THE FARMERS' FREE SCHOOL.

Our school has opened, and has been running for two months. I refer to the numerous evening fairs throughout the land, from which the farmer is getting a vast amount of information as well as amusement. The county fair should not be regarded as simply a place of amusement. When you see a product of the farm that is a little better than anything you have ever raised, find out how it was done, for surely you have an even show with any farmer in the land. Don't go only to see, but take something to exhibit. It is a source of satisfaction to know that you are as good as the best in one line at least. If you should be so fortunate as to take a premium. If you are not the lucky one, you will see where you missed it and have the added experience to add you next year. A great source of pleasure to any farmer is the sight of fine stock. A great lesson may be learned in the show ring. Pass judgment on an animal and see how near you came to guessing what a show animal should be, after the judge has passed on it. You possibly never saw half of the different breeds of stock, so would it not be well to get out of your shell at least once a year and see what the world is doing in the way of improvement of breeds and the establishing of new types? If you make a study of what you see at the fair, it is safe to say that you will come home with some of your old prejudices thrown to the wind and some new resolutions formed that will bear fruit before another year rolls around. We have read a great deal about plant breeding, it is true that we may get a fair understanding of it from the agricultural press, but to get a practical demonstration of it let us take a look at some of the exhibitions of farm products, that we may see what is possible in that line. Another benefit to be derived from the fair is the influence it has on the children. Never leave the little ones at home, for what they see now will be with them all through life. They will possibly see better fruit than they are accustomed to seeing on the trees at home, and will be made to wonder why this is so. They may really give it more thought than you will, and it may be as bread cast upon the waters, instilling new energy and a faith in the great possibilities of agriculture and kindred industries. How to keep the children satisfied on the farm has been a problem for ages and everything we can throw in their way that will call to their minds the privileges we enjoy will help accomplish the desired result. The state fairs, will, of course, be more interesting, and when practicable should be attended, as they are to the county fair what the high school is to the district school.

SAVING FODDER.

It frequently happens that farmers put too low an estimate on well-cured corn fodder. When corn is cheap and roughness scarce, which is frequently the case, it is worth half as much for feeding, especially to young stock, as grain. For sheep, colts, calves and milk cows I consider it superior to either clover or timothy, but much of its value depends on the condition in which it is saved. Like timothy, it is almost universally left standing until the blade become weather-beaten and the strength and nutriment dried out to such an extent that it is almost worthless as a feed. There is a season for all kinds of farm work, and the proper time for securing corn fodder is just before the milk leaves the grain and while there is some sap left in the stalk and the blades are green. If cut and properly cured in this condition and fed liberally to horses, mules and cattle, they will always be in a healthy, growing condition. I do not mean to say that grain, clover and timothy should not be fed at all, but I do claim that if more bright, well-cured corn fodder were saved and fed to our farm stock, there would be fewer cases of heaves and coughing among our horses and less dry murrain among our cattle. In cutting off corn fodder, I prefer putting it in large shocks, sixteen hills square, which amounts to about 256 hills to a shock, but some of our farmers who have emigrated from the East make them much smaller, putting from 64 to 144 hills to a shock, and only having more weather beaten fodder, which is almost worthless as feed. To prevent the shocks from twisting and falling, they should be securely bound near the top with binder twine. All good farmers know that after shocks have stood a couple of weeks and become settled, the binding will become loose and should be tightened. When the weather is damp it will pay to hire hands or call in the neighbors, as in olden times, and husk it out in short order, mingling business with pleasure for it is good to the neighborly. In hucking, the fodder should be made into bundles, and tied with twine in two or three places. It would be better if the teams could follow the huskers and haul off the roughness to the barn or make a rick of it. By Christmas the crop, both grain and fodder, should be well housed. In feeding the fodder a good roomy manger is indispensable. It saves much feed and prevents the stock from tramping it. The stalks should be thrown from the manger as often as necessary, and let them be tramped and mixed with the soil and the droppings of the stock. This will make many loads of rich manure to renovate the farm. C. GLOVER.

MOTHER GONE.

The pale horse and rider have again visited Gallup and taken from a home and beloved companion and mother, Lizzie S. Dobbins, (nee Preston,) wife of John Dobbins. She was a daughter of Stephen Preston, deceased. She was born Sept. 7th 1859 in Floyd county Ky., and God in his infinite love called her home at 1 o'clock Saturday, Sept. 22th. She had been an invalid for several years, but always a good Christian and member of the M. E. Church, South. She leaves a husband and 6 children and two brothers, McDonald and Mat. Preston, of Johnson county, to mourn their loss. One child was away from home when she passed away, but when Mary received the sad message saying "Mother is Dead," she said through her tears: "Mother fell asleep in the arms of Jesus." We feel that the Heavenly Father will protect and help care for the orphan children. She was conscious until the last, told them what a beautiful place Heaven was, and a little later when her eyes were moving, when asked what she was saying she said she was talking to Jesus. Oh, that each one could leave such a testimony as this for their dear friends. To little Jettie, Johnnie, Charlie, Harper and Gertrude, we will say that your little hands were ever ready to help your darling mother. She is gone and her chair will be vacant, but another filled in heaven. Home is lonely without mother, but she is not suffering now, but is resting, watching, and waiting, on the other shore. We can sing her favorite song. "Oh, how sweet it will be in that heavenly land, To meet one another again." While she is now singing the songs of heaven, and if we live Christians we will all meet her again. To the Children: But Oh, beyond this shadow land, Where all is bright and fair I know full well these dear hands Will palms of victory wear Where countless streams through endless years, Flow over the golden strands. And where the old grow young again We'll clasp our mother's hands. The Children.

HUMAN BLOOD MARKS.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the time of J. W. Williams a well known merchant of Bnc. Ky. He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since. It cures Hemorrhages, Chronic cough, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for weak lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by A. M. Hughes, druggist. 50c and $1.00, trial bottle free.

Prospective Changes.

The membership of the Supreme Court may be largely changed between now and March 4, 1909. In fact, the strong probabilities are that it will be so changed. It is a pretty general rule among the members of the court to take advantage of the law which permits them to retire with full pay when they have reached the age of seventy, though in the case of a few members, who have been blessed with robust health, they have waived the rule and have continued to grace the woolsack for several years after they have reached the age of earned retirement. At other times the exigencies of politics have caused them to hold on or retire, as the case may be, in the hope that their places might be filled with men of their own party.

At this time there are two members of the court eligible to retirement, besides Justice Brown, who, on account of failing eyesight, has just stepped down. They are Chief Justice Fuller and Associate Justice Harlan. Fuller is a democrat and Harlan is a Republican. It is being stated with seeming authority that Associate Justice Peckham is going to retire on account of ill health. Associate Justice Brewer will be eligible to retirement on the 20th of next June, when he will have reached the allotted three-score and ten. Justice Peckham would be eligible to retirement with pay after November 9, 1908, but he may retire before that time. He took his seat in 1905.

Chief Justice Fuller is the oldest member of the court. He was born February 11, 1823, in Augusta, Me. It will be seen by this that he has already given three and a half years more to the arduous task of weighing every matter coming before the court than he would have had to give. He is a hale and hearty, well preserved old man and bears his three scores and thirteen lightly. He will probably hold on at least until after the election day of 1908, and if Theodore Roosevelt is succeeded by a Democrat as President, bearing ill-health Chief Justice Fuller will likely not retire before March 4, 1909, at which time he will be seventy-six years of age.

For bumptious good health Associate Justice Harlan takes first rank. He is only three months the junior of the Chief Justice, but he is as big as a mountain almost and seemingly as full of health as the best of men. He is a Republican and a pretty strict party man, and should the Democrats win in 1908 he would probably give Theodore Roosevelt the privilege of appointing his successor.

Associate Justice David Josiah Brewer will be eligible for retirement next June. He was born in Asia Minor in 1837, his father having been a missionary in Turkey. Whether he will avail himself of the opportunity to retire is not known. He appears to be in excellent health. He is a Republican and would probably give Theodore Roosevelt the opportunity to appoint his successor should the next President be a Democrat.

The other members of the court have more than five years to serve yet before any of them would be eligible to retirement.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION WILL MAKE NO CHANGE.

No matter which candidate is elected, Foley's Honey and Tar will remain the people's favorite remedy for coughs, colds and incipient consumption. It cures colds quickly and prevents pneumonia. A. J. Nussbaum, Batesville, Ind. writes: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried Foley's Honey and Tar and eight doses cured me." For sale by Louisa Drug Co.

TREASURE IN FLORIDA

GREAT WEALTH REPORTED BURIED NEAR ST. MARKS.

Five Million Dollars Received by Spain for State Said to Be Hidden There—Several Expeditions Have Sought Gold.

Pensacola, Fla.—Hon. H. Clay Crawford, secretary of state, is one of the most interesting men in Florida. Connected with the office he holds all his life, he is a veritable encyclopedia of interesting information, and his latest story is one which should attract the adventuresome. This is in regard to buried treasure off St. Marks, Fla., and he tells it as given below:

"It was near St. Marks that the Spanish gunboat carrying the $5,000,000 that was paid Spain in 1821 for Florida was disabled, and it was there that the money was buried. History relates that this amount was paid in gold from the mint at New Orleans and was loaded on a Spanish gunboat. The boat became disabled near St. Marks. In the fear of pirates, who infested the coast, the captain, with several of the crew, landed and buried the gold, and then returned to the gunboat. They drifted about for days and were finally picked up by a vessel bound for Peru. During that voyage a scurvy broke out on the ship and the officers and many of the men died. Those who survived were landed in Peru eventually penniless.

"Many years afterward an old man named Bell landed at St. Marks. He was an old man, feeble and ill, and was kindly cared for by a man named Smith. He lingered several months and then died. When he was about to die he told Smith the story of his life. He said he was one of the crew of the ill-fated gunboat that carried the gold from New Orleans. He told of the boat being disabled and of the crew being carried to Peru. He said he had spent his life trying to get back to St. Marks, and he gave Smith a chart by which the spot could be located. This was the last year of the war, more than 40 years after Florida had been annexed to the union. After Bell's death Smith set out in a small sailboat with two negroes to look for the spot. He made a careful search and inspection of the coast, and found, as he believed, the exact spot. The chart described three trees which grew at a certain spot. In one of them an iron spike had been driven. Smith found what he believed were the trees referred to in the chart and on one of them he noticed a knot. Into this he cut and found an iron spike. He measured off the distance named in the chart and began to dig. Being an old man and equipped with only a hoe and spade he did not make a great deal of progress. He returned home, having decided to get better equipment. Shortly afterward the war was closed, slaves were freed and he was left without money necessary to continue the search. Living in the hope that he could find it, and believing firmly that it was buried near the tree with the spike in it, Smith also died.

"Some years after the advent of Bell another sailor appeared. He also was an old man and of very secretive habits. He fitted out a boat, bought picks, etc., and disappeared. At intervals he would return for supplies. When his funds were exhausted he taught school, boarding his earnings like a miser, and spending them for trips in the summer. Finally, exhausted from labor and the hardships he had endured, he sickened and died. From his papers it was found that his name was Ballou, and that he was the survivor of the crew of the Spanish gunboat that sailed from New Orleans with the $5,000,000 for Spain.

"Since that day many have sought the millions that are hidden in the marshes at St. Marks. That they lie there few who have heard the story from those who lived there in those days can doubt. Various expeditions have been secretly fitted out to search for it in recent years.

MOUNTAIN RENT BY QUAKE.

Live Stock and Game Flee in Terror Owing to Rumbings.

Martinez, Cal.—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Marshall and daughter of Vallejo, who have just returned from a camping trip into the heart of Mendocino county, have brought home hitherto unpublished accounts of seismic disturbances at Bald mountain, in the San Hedran range, near Covello, on the Eel river.

As the result of the earthquake on April 18 Bald mountain has been creased with deep fissures, while a loud, rumbling sound can be heard at a distance of 30 miles, issuing apparently from its depths. It has been impossible to herd horses or other live stock on the range since the subterranean noises were first heard, as they refuse the pasture and bolt from the cattlemen at the first opportunity. The few remaining Indians who made the base of the mountain their home have left the place and moved several miles down the river. All quail, deer, bear and other game have left the mountain and sportsmen who have ventured near returned empty handed.

Mrs. Marshall says that the people of the section maintain a strict silence regarding the phenomenon and cannot be induced to express themselves. A sort of superstitious fear has settled over the place. A scientist from the University of California and a professor of a Mendocino county high school attempted the ascent, but turned back when half way up the mountain and returned to Covello.

All Signs Say Severe Winter.

The local prognosticators declare that the hot weather for 1906 is gone forever, says the Danville Advocate. There are several old heads in Danville that never fail when it comes to forecasting the weather, and they have consulted their goose bone and the sign is right. One of the chief signs that they point to is the appearance of the katydid, which undoubtedly signifies that the cool nights are here and Old Sol's face will not shine so fiercely on the populace from now on. The local weather prophets can be seen these days consulting, and the Advocate has been informed on several occasions of the future weather, and it always comes as predicted. They say that within six weeks after the first katydid has sung frost is sure to appear, and they point to an unbroken record in proof. Then there are many signs that next winter unlike last winter, will be unusually severe. This prediction is supported by the statement from many sections that the corn shucks the much thicker this year than they have been for a long time, while snow comes from the mountains sections that there will be an enormous yield of acorns, beechnuts, chestnuts and other fruits of the forest upon which birds and beasts depend for food during the winter months. Still another sign of a long and cruel winter is found in the activity of the barn mice. These little animals have already begun the work of building their nests, and the observants agree that they are making them this year unusually cozy and warm. Last year they seemed to give little attention to the building of their winter homes, but this year they are not only beginning to build them unusually early, but are giving remarkable care and attention to their construction. All of which signs point to a severe winter, and there are many people, who place as much confidence in these homely predictions as they do in the reports of the weather bureau.

CONSUMPTIVES MADE COMFORTABLE.

Incipient consumption is cured by Foley's Honey and Tar, but we do not hold out false hopes to consumptives by claiming that it will cure this dread disease in the advanced stages; but if the lungs are not too far gone, one Foley's Honey and Tar will effect a cure, as it stops the racking cough and soothes the inflamed air passages giving them a chance to heal, and even in the advanced stages it always gives comfort and relief. A. A. Herren, of Finch, Ark., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for coughs and lung trouble. I know that it has cured consumption in the first stages." SKAGGS.

Ernest Jayne and Miss Minnie Holbrook were married Saturday evening of last week, at the home of the bride's parents. The bride is an exceedingly pretty and attractive young lady. The daughter of P. P. Holbrook, a well to do farmer of this place. Mr. Jayne is a son of the late Henry Jayne of Flat Gap, and is a very worthy and promising young man. The ceremony was quiet on account of the sickness of the bride's mother who is suffering from a severe attack of appendicitis. The bride wore a beautiful white silk dress. The groom was also faultlessly dressed. Everything being made ready they walked quietly into the sick mother's room and were married by Rev. L. F. Smith, of Flat Gap. The bride's mother is thought to be better at this writing.

The oil well drilled on N. Spark's farm came in dry.

Our County attorney and G. W. Skaggs, of Louisa, attended court at Squire Bill Holbrook's last Saturday.

Lonzo Lyon and wife attended the association at Red Bush Saturday.

Elder Samuel Preston of W. Va., preached a very interesting sermon here last Sunday night. 2 Friends.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

James Lakin has been appointed post master at Mavity, Boyd county.

Greenup Ky., Sept. 30 — Frank Marshal shot himself through the heart in the same room where his wife was lying at the point of death with consumption. He came here six months ago from Elliott county and bought a large farm on Coal branch.

Francis Rose, of the firm of Barber and Rose, merchants at Cline Elliott county, let a pistol go off in his hand Monday, the ball entering his leg near the knee and coming out below and entering young Sam Maggard's leg, wounding them both badly.

Morehead, Ky., Sept. 27.—A freight train was wrecked here to-day, throwing several cars from the track where it was switching. Brakeman Louman narrowly escaped death. He jumped from the car first, then, as he was about to be caught among the wreckage, made another leap, which saved his life.

A dispatch from Bluefield, W. Va., states that the Dixon, Pocahontas Fuel Co., which recently began the development of a 3000-acre tract of coal land near Welch, has sunk a shaft 10 feet to No. 4 seam, which is five and one-half feet thick, showing a good quality of coal. Mining operations are in charge of Superintendent J. P. Davis.

Miss Hattie Milton Jones, of Ashland, assisted by local talent, gave the Old Maids Convention entertainment at the court house Friday night and at the Odd Fellows Hall Monday night to a fairly good house. The performance was very creditable to both the manager and the young ladies and gentlemen who participated, and merited a better attendance than was out either night.—Wayne News.

Negro "Jack," who is well known about town is in the county jail at Williamson, waiting to be tried on the charge of assaulting a seven-year-old colored girl on last Thursday evening.

This negro "Jack" is one of the most contemptible and impudent about the city and if the charges are proven on him it is to be hoped that the people of Williamson have seen the last of him.

Morehead, Ky., Sept. 29.—Miss Mattie Patton, daughter of Alex Patton, a prominent farmer living near Morehead, arrayed herself in her bridal robes yesterday evening to be married to Daniel Dyre. When the hour arrived, the minister who was to officiate was absent, and the wedding was delayed until near the midnight hour, when a messenger was dispatched to summon the tardy minister. The excuse of the preacher was that he had forgotten the occasion.

Maysville, Ky., Sept. 29.—William Candy, aged ten years, was run over and instantly killed by an electric street car at Second and Walnut streets here this morning. The lad, with several others, was playing ball at that point when one knocked it across the street. Candy started to get it, not noticing the approaching car, and ran in front of it. Before Motorman John Laman could stop the car had passed over his stomach, cutting the child in two.

Morehead, Ky., Sept. 29.—Great excitement is being manifested over Harlin Skaggs, a boy 17 years of age, who left his home several days ago. He is the son of Daniel Skaggs, who is a farmer and lives ten miles south of town, near the Rowan and Elliott county line. Young Skaggs, with lantern and dog, started to a moonshine still across on Miner, only a few miles distant, and up to this time has not returned. The people to the number of fifty have made a thorough search over hill and cliff. It is believed by the relatives that he was killed and his body hidden away by the moonshiners. The searching party found the location of the still, which had only been moved away, it seemed, a few hours before. It is supposed that the moonshiners thought the boy to be a marshal and fired upon him. A difficulty which promised to be a bloody one was narrowly averted. The relatives and friends of the boy, with some of the party who were suspects, only for the interference of some of the more considerate of the party, would have taken the law into their own hands, which certainly would have cost the lives of several persons, as each carried a gun.

The Dr. Snyder above referred to is a son of Cal Snyder, of Ironton, and a nephew of Augustus and T. J. Snyder, of Louisa. He is said to be a very capable young physician.

Huntington, W. Va., October 1. — Early this morning, at the little town of Midkiff, 25 miles south of this city, French Midkiff, a Justice of the Peace and wealthy farmer, was shot down and instantly killed by Eddie Midkiff, his twelve-year-old son.

About 8 o'clock the father administered a severe whipping to his two sons, Edward and John, and it was while smarting under this punishment that the younger of the boys took the father's life. After receiving the punishment the lad went upstairs, where he procured a shotgun, and, aiming from the balustrade, emptied a load of buckshot into the back of the father's head. The old man fell forward to the floor and expired instantly.

It appears that on yesterday the boys had been started to Sunday school, but instead of going there had gone to the woods and spent the day hunting pawpaws. When the year-old child, who was struck by a train near Cyrus, on the Big Sandy division. The tot had wandered out upon the track and was standing on the ties as the heavy freight train tore around the curve. It was impossible to bring the train to a stop, and the child paid no attention to the screaming whistle and bell. The engineer saw the pilot strike the little one, and for an instant closed his eyes in anticipation of the child being round to pieces.

A second later he saw a bundle of white tossed into the weeds along the track. When the train was stopped and a search was made, they found the babe so frightened to cry. Investigation showed that the little one had escaped with only a few bruises.—Portsmouth Times

Engineer B. J. Calloway who had been visiting friends and relatives at Walbridge, Ky., passed through the city Monday en route to Thacker, where he has a position with the Thacker Coal Company.

Dr. O. H. Snyder, of Ironton, O., arrived in the city a few days ago. Dr. Snyder is a graduate of Starling Medical College and a high type young man. He will practice his profession with Dr. Dix, of this city, at whose home his office will be.—Mingo Republican.

The Dr. Snyder above referred to is a son of Cal Snyder, of Ironton, and a nephew of Augustus and T. J. Snyder, of Louisa. He is said to be a very capable young physician.

The old man fell forward to the floor and expired instantly.

It appears that on yesterday the boys had been started to Sunday school, but instead of going there had gone to the woods and spent the day hunting pawpaws. When the father learned of the deception this morning was greatly angered and whipped both boys severely.

After killing his father, young Midkiff took to the hills in the rear of his home, but was captured, and will have a hearing before Squire Panley, a brother Justice of the peace. Squire Midkiff was one of the best known men in the valley of the Guyan.

The Annual Meeting of the Christian Church will convene at Yorkville on the 5th of October and will continue in session until and including the 8th. The officers of this church have taken up the matter of a reduction of rates with the officers of the N. and W., and in all probability a reduced rate will be granted to all who must travel over the road to reach the meeting. A large attendance is anticipated.

At a recent teachers' examination held in Wayne P. P. Lester, Rufus Lester, J. C. Strother and Arabella Copley were granted first class certificates. Edmund Napier and William Slipp received No. 2 certificates, and May Hanson, Victoria Perry, Mary Belle Vinson, Carrie Lee Vason, Alice Vinson and Wayne Jarrell received third class certificates. There were many others, but these are well known in and about Fort Gay.
